GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

6.1 - Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 - The governance of the institution is reflective of and in tune with the vision and mission of the institution

This institution aims at providing higher educational opportunities to the rural and disadvantaged sections of the students and cultivate among them scientific temper, creative thinking, right character and promote dynamic and forward looking outlook. It is to be achieved through quality education in the arts, humanities, science and technology streams which are integrated to the market demands so that the students can have wider employment opportunities.

The Principal as the head of the institution constitutes various committees and governance bodies that look into various academic, curricular and extracurricular and administrative needs. These bodies are headed and run by the members of both the teaching and support staff in close association with the students, the primary stakeholders of the institution, and their parents. The members of each of these committees meet from time to time to discuss the issues relating to the aspect assigned to them and make suggestions to improve quality in their respective area, keeping in view the changes that are effected in the curriculum and new areas that emerge in the job market. Besides, there have been consistent efforts to link the departments to various industries so as to enable the students to complete their CSP and internships.

6.1.2 - The effective leadership is visible in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management.

The principal as the head of the institution holds complete authority over its day-to-day functioning. She is also accountable to everything that happens at the college level. However, this power can be decentralized and responsibilities can be accorded to other faculty and support staff in areas not directly concerned with the finance matters. One such area is admissions. The college follows the procedure prescribed by APSCHE in enrolling the students for its various programmes. The entire procedure is carried out online. So the heads of the departments of various conventional and restructured courses are engaged in this process of checking the details of all students applied for this college and counselling them to go for an appropriate programme that suits their skillset and improves their future prospects. The designated support staff maintains the documents, sorts them out into the different programmes and presents them whenever needed. Here, the designated head is given full authority to take a decision on his/ her own without having to approach the principal. This process of decentralization and participative management has enabled the institution to complete the admission process hassle-free.

As part of this, memoranda of understanding were made with both parallel educational institutions and industries. A strategic plan was prepared in consultation with the staff members to exchange students and faculty to expose the students to different ideas and learning processes. Industry visits were conducted to give the students the first-hand account of the various activities that can enable the students to choose and complete their internships.

At the institutional level, the principal functions as the head overseeing both the academic and administrative activities keeping in view the policies, service rules and procedures set and modified by the Government of Andhra Pradesh and Commissionerate of Collegiate Education from time to time. Secondly, we have the Vice Principal, who assists the principal and acts as the principal in her absence. After that, the heads of departments look after the academic and administrative activities of their respective departments.

Besides, we have an Office Superintendent to look after the financial, budgetary, enrolment of students, and other aspects of the office. Under him, we have a Senior Assistant, Junior Assistant, Record Assistant and Attenders to assist in the office administration.

Apart from these statutory bodies, there is an advisory body called College Planning and Development Committee that advises the principal, helps her get the funding from the alumni or any other donors and offer any other support as and when required.

7.1 - Institutional Values and Social Responsibilities
7.1.1 - Measures initiated by the Institution for the promotion of gender equity during the year
This remotely-located institution caters to the higher education needs of the students from the surrounding villages. Most of the parents have reservations about sending their girl children to higher education. Hence, it falls on the administration to sensitize the parents about the importance of higher education to their girl children. For this, the administration has constituted a Women Empowerment Cell, which ensures the welfare and safety the women students. The Women Empowerment Cell plays a critical role in persuading the parents to send the girls to college and maintaining gender equality in the campus. It deals with the complaints, if any, made to it by the women students and takes necessary action to resolve them at the earliest. It maintains a separate record of all the grievances and works with the motto of zero grievances. Apart from this, there is also an anti-ragging cell, which comprises representation of both senior boys and girls apart from the faculty members. It dissuades the senior students from harassing the juniors, especially the girls.

7.1.11 - Institution celebrates / organizes national and international commemorative days, events and festivals

To inculcate patriotism and social awareness among the students, the institutional calendar includes not just the academic activities but the Co-curricular and Extra-curricular activities as well, which include national and international commemorative days. In this, the IQAC team of the college led by the Co-ordinator plays a crucial role in not only preparing the calendar but also implementing it. While planning the co-curricular activities, suggestions are sought from the heads of the respective departments what and when they need to organize the necessary activities as per the curricular requirements so that there cannot be inter-departmental clashes in the scheduling of the activities. And as for the extra-curricular activities, which are, though organized by a particular department or by the college management as a whole, meant for the entire student community. These activities commence with the celebration of International Yoga Day on the 21st of June every year and encompass the events such as Telugu Basha Dinotsavam, National Sports' day, Constitutional day, AIDS Awareness Day, Human Rights Day, and so on.

7.2 - Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual.

Best Practice-1

Title of the Practice: Promotion of e-learning resources

Objectives of the Practice:

To train the students on the use of e-learning resources

Context

The pandemic has been still causing disruptions in the functioning of educational institutions. So the administration felt it necessary to incorporate online teaching and learning tools part of its curriculum delivery mechanism.

The practice

Like in the last year, the students were divided into groups of 15 to 20; each group was assigned to a computer faculty to teach and demonstrate how to operate the apps.

Evidence of Success

After the training programme, the students displayed a significant improvement in their ability to effectively use the said learning apps.

Problem Encountered

Many of the students are not in a position to afford smart phones. So we found it difficult to assemble all of them at one place and train them at one go.

7.3 - Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 - Portray the performance of the Institution in one area distinctive to its priority and thrust within 200 words

Since its inception in 1966, the college has been fulfilling the dreams of the poorest of the poor students in the society by providing quality higher education. It places special emphasis on instilling confidence among them by imparting skills that may help them to face the competitive world and make a career for themselves. The faculty encourage the students to actively get involved in various exploratory activities in the college. This helps the students imbibe scientific temper, progressive outlook, gender equality and most of all patriotic fervour. We have conducted certificate and skill development programmes to equip the students with recent trends. The college has conducted society outreach programmes through Community Service Projects in various disciplines to gather data relating to their chosen subject, decode the results and draw insights to make predictions and suggestions on various social, economic and cultural issues. These community programmes develop leadership qualities and also a sense of togetherness among the students. The college is also committed to encourage and enhance the participation of women in Higher Education. Training in empowerment of women and their capability enhancement are taken up by WEC and supported by all.
